Privacy Statement - SSI Amateur Radio Society Membership Form

The Salt Spring Island Amateur Radio Society (SSIARS) collects only the personal information necessary to manage your membership and to support society activities. This typically includes your name, call sign, contact information, and membership status.

We collect, use, and store your information in accordance with BC's Personal Information Protection Act (PIPA). Your information will be used only for society purposes such as maintaining membership records, communicating with members about meetings, training, events, emergency communications activities, and issuing required notices under the BC Societies Act.

We do not sell or share your personal information with external organizations. Limited information (such as your name or call sign) may be accessible to directors and volunteers who require it to perform their society duties. We may also be legally required to provide member names to the BC Registry as part of our annual filings under the Societies Act, but no contact details are submitted.

We store personal information securely, and retain it only as long as necessary to meet our administrative, legal, and archival obligations. You may request access to your information, ask questions about how it is used, or request corrections at any time by contacting the society's executive).

By completing this form, you consent to the collection, use, and retention of your personal information for these purposes.
